Competitions, General, Ad Hoc

UK FoNS Science and Innovation Competition 2025

For students of all ages with an interest in STEM. Imperial College's Faculty of Natural Sciences Science and Innovation Competition returns for the new academic year. Open to teams of young people of primary and secondary school age, they welcome entries from schools, community and youth groups. There is no limit to the number of teams that can enter and registration is now open. There are four entry groups:

4 – 11 years old (Primary)

11 – 14 years old (KS3), 14 – 16 (GCSE)

16 – 18 (A-level)

Open Category for teams of mixed age groups.

The competition aims to motivate young people to engage with science, to encourage them to work together as part of a team and to engage them in a fun activity that is motivated by their curiosity and drive.

Teams are asked to develop a new and innovative scientific solution to help achieve one of the United Nation's Global Goals for Sustainable Development. To enter, teams will be asked to create a 5-minute film that:

Briefly outlines the goal they have selected

Describes their innovative solution

Explains the science behind their idea

Illustrates how their idea would address the goal.

Initial entries will be judged by the team at Imperial and finalists will be selected and invited to participate in the finals at Imperial in April 2025. Find out more and see details of last years final and competition winners.

Registration for entry will close on Friday 13th December. If you have any questions please contact Dr Simon Foster at ssfoster@imperial.ac.uk or fonsschoolscompetition@imperial.ac.uk

If you are willing & able, do think about hosting a lunchtime careers workshop; they are fun and informal, plus a great way of providing insights into careers.
