Airbus

Airbus don't just build aircraft— they build satellites, secure communication systems, and critical defence infrastructure. As an apprentice in Stevenage, you'll be hands-on with real projects from day one, mentored by world-class engineers and technicians.

Level 2 Apprenticeships (Focus: Foundational Skills): This is your entry point, ideal for those leaving school or looking for practical, entry-level experience. You'll gain core knowledge and essential technical skills, building a strong foundation in manufacturing, assembly, and maintenance that is transferable across the industry.

Level 3 Apprenticeships (Focus: Technical Expertise): Designed for motivated school leavers (typically post-GCSE/equivalent) or Level 2 graduates. You'll dive deep into specific technical disciplines, leading towards roles such as Engineering Technician, Manufacturing Specialist, or a specific systems role within our Defence or Space divisions.

Applications are open now for the Airbus Apprenticeship Programme - applications should be made as soon as possible. Click here

Prospective Historians - Volunteering Opportunity At IWM, Duxford

Following funding from the National Lottery Heritage Fund, there's a new youth volunteering programme for young people aged 14-17 at The Imperial War Museum in Duxford. The programme focuses on developing young people's skills to help prepare them for future employment. They will try to give an understanding of how museums work and the range of different careers available both in and outside of this sector. Additionally, they offer the opportunity to use the programme towards the completion of the Duke of Edinburgh award.

On Sunday 30th November, they are holding a taster day for prospective youth volunteers. The taster day will offer a chance to meet some of our current youth volunteers, our adult volunteers who support the programme. It is an opportunity to ask any questions and to learn more about how volunteering works. They will be able to offer free entry on the day for the prospective volunteer and up to three family members. Additionally, they are hoping to run a free coach service to the site, although this will be dependent on demand.

To register for the event, use this link to complete the registration form. If there are any questions or you require any further information, please contact DUXVolunteering@iwm.org.uk
